

Chris Read is the director of global technology. He reports to Tommy Joseph, senior vice president, Manufacturing, Technology, EHS&S and Global Sourcing.

Chris has more than 20 years of experience in manufacturing. He joined International Paper in 1992 and has held a number of leadership positions in manufacturing for the company including director of manufacturing global center of excellence, mill manager at Eastover and Pensacola mills, as well as manufacturing director for Carter Holt Harvey.

A graduate of the University of California-San Diego, Chris has a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering.

Chris and his wife, Vonna, reside in Collierville with their two children, Ethan and Grace.